- I will not serve, nor will I allow teens under the legal drinking age to consume alcohol, or use illegal drugs in my home or on my property. (It is understood that the use of wine by our own family in religious observations and family gatherings is legal and does not violate this pledge.)

The effectiveness of the Safe Homes Program depends upon parents following the guidelines listed below.

1. When your teen is invited to a party, first check the directory (or newsletter update) for the host's name. This will let you know if the party is taking place at the home of a concerned parent who has pledged to provide the proper supervision.
2. Next, phone the host parents to be sure that they are going to be home. Since they are Safe Home members as you are, the host parents will expect to be called by all guests before every party. This is their insurance that unsupervised parties will not be held in their homes when they are not present.
3. Be visible when hosting a party. Don't hesitate to take responsibility for control of your teen's peer group.
4. Lock up your liquor supply. Your teen might never think of getting into it, but his/her friend might.
5. If a gathering occurs where alcohol or illegal drugs are used by minors:
 - a. The host parent should call the family of the offending minor(s) immediately.
 - b. The guest parent should call the host parent as they will want to be made aware of the problem.
6. Lock up all weapons in and around your property. Lock up ammunition separately from weapons.

PARTICIPANTS IN THIS PROGRAM MUST BE WILLING TO MAKE THEIR TELEPHONE NUMBERS AVAILABLE IN THE STUDENT TELEPHONE DIRECTORY.
